My name is Waleed Bashir and I'm a sports journalist. I love my job because I love sport! Every morning, I go to the newspaper office and I have meetings with my editor and other journalists. Then we decide which games I need to watch. If it's a football game, I arrive about three hours before the game starts. Journalists from television, radio, and newspapers sit together in a place that's called the press box. We all chat while we get ready. During the game I make a lot of notes. At the end of the game, I watch the interviews with the club managers and players, and I make more notes. I go back to the press box and I start writing my story. I include what the players say, details of the game, and my opinion of the game. I finish the article in the press box and send it to my newspaper office to print. All the articles are sent from the press box to save time.
